Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Kids First Chicago for Education as of June 30, 2020 and 2019, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2020 and 2019

NOTE A - NATURE OF ORGANIZATION

Kids First Chicago for Education (K1C) is an education nonprofit that works to ensure that every family and child in Chicago has access to a high-quality education. The organization focuses on supporting communities and families with the information and tools to identify, navigate, and advocate for quality PK-12 public education for their students and communities. Then, with parent input and city/district leadership, K1C works to shape education policy and systems to better support all families citywide. K1C provides transparent and rigorous education analyses to families, educators, community partners and policymakers to inform data-driven and inclusive decision-making about the future of Chicago's PK-12 public schools.

K1C was initially established by the Civic Committee of The Commercial Club of Chicago and other civic leaders to support Renaissance 2010, an initiative to create 100 new public schools of choice in the City of Chicago's most challenged communities. In its first ten years, K1C raised money, supported the incubation and expansion of new public-school models, made grants to fund the start-up of schools, and hosted a New Schools EXPO for parents, students, and community members.

In 2015, the organization shifted its emphasis from opening new schools to addressing families' barriers to quality education options within Chicago's public education system.

K1C's core strategies and services include:

Conducive Environment - Through the creation of a community and family engagement arm of its work, K1C aims to activate families with the information to make the best choices for their children's education and to help shape education policy to better serve all of Chicago's PK-12 public school children.

K1C partners with families to gain the resources, information, access, and voice they need to achieve their vision for their children. K1C utilizes a place-based approach to advocacy that arms families with relevant facts, identifies key issues, and enables them to drive community- and district-wide change.

Policy – Guided by what parents say they need from their public schools, K1C pursues the policy improvements needed – e.g. fair and simplified access, adequate and equitable funding, transparent information about school quality – within Chicago's PK-12 education system that will help ensure all students, especially low-income students of color, receive a quality education. K1C collaborates with Chicago Public Schools (CPS), the City of Chicago, and other education partners to advance evidence-based education policy, publishes white papers and reports, and creates data tools to shed light on educational inequities and support district-, school- and student-level improvements. In addition to working with grass-tops influencers, K1C also strives to make information about these policy areas accessible to communities and families to support their decision-making and allow them to become active and effective advocates for policy change.

School Quality - K1C offers select school improvement support for middle-performing schools to improve their academic outcomes in sustainable ways. K1C leverages the technical, business, and operational expertise from strategic partners and service providers to support schools on their path to improvement, while documenting learning that can be applied to more schools to positively impact more students.

Other Programs – K1C receives donated services from the Civic Committee, an affiliated organization, for other programs and records the related expenses under other programs.

K1C's strength is in gluing together comprehensive data analysis, parent/community input, and city/district initiatives to solve Chicago's most pressing education concerns.

June 30, 2020 and 2019

NOTE B - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP).

Classification of Net Assets

K1C segregates net assets into two categories according to the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions:

Net assets without donor restriction - Net assets without donor restrictions include all assets not subject to donor-imposed stipulations. Contributions without donor restrictions, investment income and net assets released from donor restrictions are reflected in this category.

Net assets with donor restriction - Net assets with donor restrictions represent contributions subject to donor-imposed restrictions. Some restrictions are temporary in nature, stipulating that resources be used for specific purposes or to a specific time period for use. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or the purpose of a restriction is accomplished, net assets are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and are reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Cash

K1C maintains cash balances at financial institutions insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000. At times, the balances in these accounts may exceed the federally insured limits. K1C has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on its cash balances.

Allowance for Uncollectible Amounts

K1C calculates its receivable allowance based on historical pledge receivable write offs. As of June 30, 2020 and 2019, the allowance for uncollectible amounts was $100,000. Pledge receivables are charged to the allowance for uncollectible amounts when they are deemed uncollectible.

Investments

Investments, other than money market funds, are recorded at fair value at June 30, 2020 and 2019, and consist of high-grade, short-term investments, including mutual funds. All funds are invested according to an investment policy approved by the board of directors.

Significant concentrations of investments consisted of the following at June 30:

	2020	2019
Money market funds	83%	81%
Fixed income mutual fund	17	19

Property

Office furniture and equipment with a cost in excess of $2,500 is capitalized, stated at cost, and depreciated on a straight-line basis over asset's useful life, ranging from three to five years.

Kids First Chicago for Education

June 30, 2020 and 2019

Contributions

Promises to give cash and other assets are reported as contributions or grants with donor restrictions if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. Donor-restricted gifts are reported as contributions or grants with donor restrictions even if the restrictions expire during the fiscal year in which the gift was received and are then reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions. Unconditional pledges expected to be collected within one year are recorded at their net realizable value. Unconditional pledges expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of estimated cash flows. The discounts on those amounts are computed using a risk-adjusted interest rate applicable to the year in which the promise is received.

Conditional contributions are not recorded until conditions are met. Amortization of the discount is included in contribution revenue.

Donated Services

U.S. GAAP establishes regulations for reporting donated services. Those regulations require that donated services meeting three criteria should be reflected on the financial statements. The three criteria are as follows: the service requires a specialized skill; work is performed by someone possessing the specialized skill; and the service is something the organization would have had to purchase if it had not been donated.

In compliance with U.S. GAAP, the value of donated services has been reflected in the accompanying statements of activities as revenue and the related expense.

For the years ended June 30, 2020 and 2019, donated services totaled $245,180 and $260,416, respectively, for legal services provided by business organizations and administrative and program support provided by affiliated organizations. These services were recorded at the prevailing costs and market rates for such services and the cost incurred by affiliated organizations.

Functional Expense Allocation

The financial statements report certain categories of expenses that are attributable to one or more programs or supporting functions of K1C. Those expenses include depreciation, technology, telephone, utilities, office supplies, and rent, and are allocated based on employee hours worked or square footage of office space occupied.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2018, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued ASU 2018-08, Not-for-Profit Entities (Topic 958): Clarifying the Scope and the Accounting Guidance for Contributions Received and Contributions Made. This ASU clarifies and improves the scope of the accounting guidance for contributions received and contributions made. The clarifications and improved scope assists entities in (1) evaluating whether transactions should be accounted for as contributions (nonreciprocal) or as exchange (reciprocal) transactions and (2) determining whether a contribution is conditional. K1C adopted this guidance on July 1, 2019. The impact of adopting ASU 2018-08 did not have a material impact on the financial position, change in net assets, cash flows, business processes or systems of K1C.

NOTE C – LIQUIDITY

At June 30, 2020, total current assets of $4,026,285, less prepaid expenses and other assets of $7,309, totaling $4,018,976, is available for expenditure within the next year.

At June 30, 2019, total current assets of $3,198,761, less prepaid expenses and other assets of $4,343, totaling $3,194,418, were available for expenditure within the next year.

K1C receives significant contributions that are restricted by donors and considers contributions restricted for programs which are ongoing, major, and central to its annual operations to be available to meet cash needs for general expenditures.

K1C operates with a balanced budget and anticipates receiving sufficient revenue from donors to cover general expenditures each year.

NOTE D - PLEDGES RECEIVABLE, NET

	2020	2019

As of June 30, 2020, and 2019, K1C has conditional contributions of $180,000 and $1,257,869, respectively. These contributions have not been recorded on the accompanying financial statements, as they are payable based on a future event occurring.

NOTE E - INVESTMENTS

Fair Value Measurements

U.S. GAAP defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, establishes a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used to measure fair value and enhances disclosure requirements for fair value measurements. U.S. GAAP also maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the observable inputs be used when available.

Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from independent sources. Unobservable inputs reflect assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on the best information available in the circumstances. The fair value hierarchy is broken down into three levels based on the transparency of inputs as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the report date. A quoted price for an identical asset or liability in an active market provides the most reliable fair value measurement because it is directly observable to the market. These include mutual funds traded in an active market.

Level 2 - Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the report date. The nature of these securities includes investments for which quoted prices are available, but which are traded less frequently and investments that are fairly valued using other securities, the parameters of which can be directly observed.

Level 3 - Securities that have little to no pricing observability as of the report date. These securities are measured using management's best estimate of fair value, where the inputs into the determination of fair value are not observable and require significant management judgment or estimation.

Inputs are used in applying the various valuation techniques and broadly refer to the assumptions that market participants use to make valuation decisions, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may include price information, volatility statistics, specific and broad credit data, liquidity statistics, and other factors. A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement; however, the determination of what constitutes observable requires significant judgment by K1C.

K1C considers observable data to be market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market. The categorization of a financial instrument within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the pricing transparency of the instrument and does not necessarily correspond to K1C's perceived risk of that instrument.

NOTE F - FEDERAL INCOME TAX DETERMINATION

K1C was organized and incorporated in Illinois as a not-for-profit organization in 2004. K1C has received a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stating that it is exempt from federal income taxes under the provision of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) of 1986, as amended, except for income taxes pertaining to unrelated business income. The FASB issued guidance that requires tax effects from uncertain tax positions to be recognized in the financial statements only if the position is more likely than not to be sustained if the tax position were to be challenged by a taxing authority.

Additionally, no provision for income taxes is reflected in these financial statements, and there is no interest or penalties recognized in the statements of financial position or statements of activities.
